To whom it may concern:

I am very upset by the latest news that the government is considering changing our Postal System by opening the Market to Competition. This also includes the possibility of replacing my rural home delivery to a group delivery at a designated spot.

I am an eighty five year old widow who would be greatly disadvantaged and inconvenienced by such a change. I don't drive and would miss not being able to take advantage of my daily delivery.

At that Mr. Harper promised that he would not change the system that I so appreciate.

I can only hope that the government will reconsider the effect such a change will have on rural taxpayers, who mostly have been upstanding citizens of our society, if such a change in the Postal system, namely rerouting delivery of their mail from personal mail boxes to community delivery takes place.

Please put this issue to rest!

Sincerely,

Glenn Spurrille
