

Canadians deserve a universal service all abroad and that it would cause massive job lost that would detrimental to the economy. As long as Canada Post remains self sufficient as a crown corporation all should remain status quo.

Pat
Quebec