Canada Post Corporation Strategic Review
330 Sparks Street
Ottawa, Ontario
K1A 0N5

Dear Panel Members:

I welcome the opportunity to make a submission to the Canada Post Corporation Strategic Review Advisory Panel.

I represent a riding that is both suburban and rural in composition. I therefore have an intimate understanding of the challenges Canada Post faces with regards to rural mail delivery. It was my Private Member's Motion M-170 of October, 2006 that called on the minister responsible for Canada Post to direct the Corporation to restore traditional mail delivery in rural areas. My motion received unanimous, cross-party support in the House of Commons.

There is no question that there is a need to review Canada Post operations in light of recent developments both within and outside of government. It is my belief that the Strategic Review examination of public policy objectives must take into account that the Corporation is undertaking a multi-year Rural Mailbox Traffic Safety Assessment. The Advisory Panel should do its utmost to ensure its recommendations make possible the completion of the Assessment. I believe there is scope to do this within the parameters set out by the Strategic Review's guiding principles.

Sincerely,
